REPORT OF INVESTIGATION

January 2010 Moon Phases

Information/History of Location:

1500 sq. ft. house

Built in 2000

3 Bedrooms, 2 Baths, Living/Dining Combo, Kitchen

Reported Activity By Homeowners:

She had these discs show up one day. They are like hard plastic with a hole in the middle. They were the size of dimes. She had five of them and they just disappeared. She kept them in a bag inside of another bag and they are gone now. She took them to a lady look at them one time. She told her that they had information and technology on them. She has these strings show up and they hang down from the ceiling. They are colored-like thread. They will be different colors and sizes. They just show up out of nowhere. In 2006, she said there was glob of goop that came from the ceiling and fell onto the coffee table. It took the coating off the coffee table. She picked it up and it was like a liquid and it formed into balls. She locks her doors at night and in the middle of the night, the doors will be open. She had a new car and she went out one morning and the car battery was dead. She took it to the dealership and said there was no way the battery could be dead. She had to buy a new one because they would not replace it. The lights would come on and go off by themselves. She sees shadows on the wall in her master bedroom.

Recent Remodeling/Word Done To Location:

Personal Experiences by Investigators Present

Louise found a 'string' laying on the counter after washing her hands in the guest bathroom. Our theory is the string came from the hand towel that was laying by the 'string' on the counter.

Conclusion

Our theory on the mysterious 'strings' is that they are thread coming from clothing after they are washed. They look and feel like thread. The mysterious 'discs' appear to be clear buttons with one hole in the middle. The shadows that are being seen on the master bedroom wall appear to be caused by a car going by. In the master bathroom, there is a set of windows above the bathtub. We tested the this theory by having an investigator drive by the house while someone was in the master bedroom watching the wall. Shadows appeared on the wall when the car went by.
